

COPS: WOMAN FAKED ATTACK ON HERSELF

Posted by Liz Doup on December 4, 2009 07:00 AM
SOUTH FLORIDA SUN-SENTINEL

Hmmmmm. Here's one sick chick.

Cops say Christine Lanier told them she beat herself with a shoe and cut her face with a razor to fake two attacks and an attempted rape to get attention from her boyfriend, who she thought was leaving her, reports theledger.com.

But before the Bartow woman 'fessed up, her claims sparked two manhunts in October and November by the Bartow Police Department and the Polk County Sheriff's Office's helicopter unit.

Even worse, she made a racial matter out of her madeup crime by saying an unknown black man, armed with a knife, attacked her and tried to rape her at her home.

But she said the attack was thwarted by her dog biting the attacker, reports said.

Now the 29-year-old faces two counts of filing false police reports, along with owing the cost of the investigations, which police estimate between $1,000 and $2,000.

"I just want to be left alone," Lanier said. "It's a whole bunch of bull."

Left alone? It's a little late for that.

<https://www.sun-sentinel.com/news/fl-xpm-2009-12-04-0912040039-story.html>